43148 This view shows, to the left, a Cocus palm, we think, and to the right a few old specimen plants of the native California fan palm. To the extreme right a portion of a clump of quite ornamental bamboo. Note that the benches are filled with people and in the back ground is a large public building.

43149 Looking along one of the cross walks of the park from near the south side to the north, near the center is a large stone fountain, and in the back ground, the front view of one call City building and a part of the front of another.

43150 This view is practically the same as 43149 except that the position of some of the people on the walk is changed

43151 This view shows from left to right a phoenix date palm, a tall Cocus plumosa, farther back a very nice clump of bamboo and back of these portions of tall city business buildings

43152 Looking along one of the diagonal walks through the small park in the central portion of the City of Los Angeles near the City and Suburban station, practically every sitting space is occupied.

43158 From the side walk at the west looking across of the town in the small park in which the previous picture shows a different view.

43154 a view near the center
in a small park in the business part of the City of Los Angeles, California. showing something of the vegetation and the many patrons.

43155 a view near the S. W. corner of the small park, looking across a portion of the town. The view showing some of the larger and older trees and a line of benches filled with patrons who appear to be enjoying this open space in an a large city.

view showing the old Canon (bronze) which is to the left of the diagonal walk through the park, running from the S. E. to the N. W. The inscription of the bronze plate reads as follows. "Made at play ground in Hebia park

43186

Another view in the children's play ground but slightly different from the one shown above

43187

View across a portion of a small lake in Hehial Park, Japan.

43205 This evergreen shrub has terminal white flower clusters (some shrubs with pink and some with white) is very attractive. Mr. Surtake is standing to the left of a fine plant

43206

A nice evergreen plant of this beautiful pink flowered shrub in full bloom

43207 The branches on the left have pink flowers, the one on the right white flowers. This is a valuable, handsome, early spring flowered shrub.

43208
View up winding stone steps leading to a small pagoda at the top of the small hills. Quite an attractive park view

43209

A nearby view of another plant of this early flowering shrub.

43210 View along one of the drives in the park. In the foreground to the left is a Japanese Magnolia and beyond it a short way Forsythia.

43211 Banana plants
with their winter protection removed. See picture #4316 or the same plants from practically the same position, made 3/21/29 before the winter covering was removed

43212 A fairly nearby view of a shrub about 10 ft. tall with small racemes of yellow flowers which proceed
the leaves.

43232

An attractive view in the garden
at the Japanese inn at Okitsu.

43250

View of a portion of the fascinating Japanese garden
at the inn at which we stayed at Okitsu, Japan.

53259 View of a portion of the beautiful little Japanese garden at the back of the Minauchi ya inn at Akitsu, Japan

53261 Another view
of the small Japanese garden
at the Japanese inn where we spent the night.
Akitsu, Japan.

43291 Looking through a door
in an old Temple of Seikenji or Kiyomidara. In the shadow on the left the even ridges of clean gravel shows up quite distinctly.
On the right is a beautiful garden

43292 Another view
from within the Temple of Seikenji to a beautiful hillside garden without 43378

43377.

A view a little to the right of the view shown in picture #43376. We think this quite attractive and effective.

43378.

This view is to the left of #43376 and #43377 shows a portion of a small stream running through the garden of Countess Akashi.

43379 A Japanese pagoda-shaped stone lantern among the trees, and shrubs, a really beautiful setting and consequently a beautiful view.

43380

An attractive and beautiful landscape view. The picture is well balanced and very fine.

43381

Another beautiful view in this fascinating Japanese garden.

43382

Another view across a small lake in Shiba Rikuo Koen or park. In the foreground is an attractive small island and in the background an ugly building.

43383 View across a small lake in Shiba Rikue Koen. It is picturesque and attractive.

43387
Looking up a small stream under pine trees in the garden of Countess Akamori.

43383

43387

43388

43388
An attractive and beautiful scene in the garden of Countess Akamori. The bronze lantern and statue are well located and keep in the setting to form a harmonious whole.

43406 Cherry blossoms, Shiba park.

43415 A small lake in the Botanical garden showing globular pruned shrubs.

43416 showing quite a number of pruned globular shrubs.

43418 Three Japanese boys catching tadpoles in Botanical garden

43419

Looking across the lake to the hillside planted to globular headed shrubs
and trees. quite an attractive view

43420

Another view across the lake in the Botanical garden, to the planted hillside, Tokyo, Japan.

43429 View across a portion of a small lake in the Botanical garden. This view shows something of the arrangement and hillside planting in the garden

43430 View under a wisteria arbor at the Botanical garden. From a position under near the lake looking toward the hillside, Tokyo, Japan.

43431 Showing a small portion of a small lake or lily pond in the Botanical garden, Also something of the contour of the land in that section of the garden as well as the arrangement and plantings.

43432 View showing a portion of a small lily pond and hillside plantings at the Botanical garden
the globular shrubs. We understand are for the part part Eurkianthus japonica

43433 View along a portion of a hillside walk, above the small lake in the Botanical Garden, an attractive scene. The stone carvings at the right are interesting and artistic.

A rather close up view of the rounded shrubs of Eukalyptus japonica to an artistic stone lantern near the center of the picture, but pretty well in the background.

43478
A picnic party in a fascinating and attractive place in Rikyo park.
Tokyo, Japan.

43480

A panoramic view at the Botanical Garden from a position to the south of a small lake. This view shows, very nicely, not only the costumes of the land, but something of the plantings.

43481 A panoramic view from the north side of the small lake in Bushi Park. This is an attractive view.
Tokyo, Japan.

43482 A panoramic view showing the greater part of the small lake and near by land in Orinchi park, near Tokyo bay. The planting and walk arrangement are quite well shown 43483 A panoramic view across a portion of a small lake in Bushi Park, near Tokyo Bay. This with the other views made a good impression of the park.

43844 A panoramic view from the south of the lake in Busshi Park, showing a goodly portion of the lake & planting, Tokyo, Japan.

43497 View of a Japanese Cherry blossom lantern among double flowering cherries. The blossoms are white with a pink tinge. The setting is great and the view most pleasing and attractive.
Taken in one of the Courts of the Imperial Hotel.

43500

View similar to # 43501 but from a position to the East looking West.

43501 View from the south side of one of the large circles in the north end of Hibiya Park, where there is a good display of tulips in full bloom.

43502 View from a position just north from the open ball park looking north to the band stand near the center of the field in Hibiya park, Tokyo, Japan.

43503 View from just west of the baseball grounds looking west to the walks and plantings of shrubs and trees in Hibiya park. Most of the shrubs are azalea in variety.
